Headless Valley

one couple • one canoe • one camera equals one incredible adventure

Monday, October 6, 2008

6:30 pm

In a time before satellite phones and helicopter rescues, Calgarians Mel and Ethel Ross fought severe isolation, insect swarms and terrifying rapids during a two-month canoe expedition up the South Nahanni into the Canadian North. Experience their journey in this groundbreaking 1957 independent film.
